

Belarus is a landlocked country in Eastern Europe, bordered by Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, Russia, and Ukraine. Its capital and largest city is Minsk. The country has extensive forests, plains, and rivers, and its economy includes manufacturing, agriculture, and information technology. Belarus has a rich cultural heritage shaped by both Eastern and Central European influences.